Most Festivals are in the annual process of accreditation

NB: Effective from 19th March 2022 and until further notice, FIAPF has paused its accreditation of the two Russian festivals receiving it so far – the Moscow International Film Festival and the Message to Man International Film Festival. Inasmuch as both are financed by the government of the Russian Federation whose actions are in violation of international norms, FIAPF concluded that there is no guarantee that the operation of these festivals will fully respect the entire set of values and rules of the FIAPF accreditation programme, including in particular to act to bring together films of the world and give priority to the promotion of films.
